

Between two worlds

Gabs

Laura was so interested in her book, the EOI library was about to close.

She went to the bathroom and when she came into the hall, heard strange noises, Laura had an inner fight between her common sense and her curiosity. Finally decided to go to the noises.

In the 303 classroom there was a shining light. Laura pushed the door, then she saw an old man, dressed from another time. He said:

–Welcome, young girl, come on.

She doubted but she got on.

The door closed behind Laura, then something happened: the classroom changed and they were in a kind of organic world.

–Did you see anything like this?

–No, I didn't - answered Laura

–Do you like it?

–It's awesome.

–It's my best invention, nobody before me has made anything similar, I'm the best, the most unique in the world and you can be part of this.

Laura was speechless, not understanding what that place was and what exactly he was talking about. She had no choice, when the old man took her hand they returned to his time and "world".

In the morning the teacher found a book on the floor of the 303 classroom, put it on the table and started the class, but Laura wasn't there...
